Hi Everyone,

We at the Cue CRC hope you had a great Christmas and New Year. This was only my second Christmas here in Cue and I was totally amazed at how quick everyone disappears once they have finished work for the year.

We haven't got much planned for January yet, but we're working on some potential craft workshops, so if there's anything you would like to learn please let me know.

We've decided to have the CRC open the same hours the Library, so from now on the Cue CRC will be open from Monday to Friday 8.00am to 4.30pm.

Please note that the CRC will closed on Monday 27th for the Australia Day public holiday.

POLICE BEAT

Traffic

G'day and Happy New Year to one and all and thanks once again for taking the time to read another edition of Police Beat for this month's Dryblower.

I hope this finds the residents of Cue well and surviving the holiday season without too many mishaps along the way?

We Cue Coppers have been out on the road and conducting our usual RBT's and dealing with other road traffic issues as it is one of our core functions here.

I hope that everyone has gone about their business and visiting rellies and done so in a responsible manner.

More to the point I hope no one succumbed to the dreaded double demerits because you took your eyes off the ball!

We are still catching speeders hand over fist and it is sad to see as it would be really nice to have 2020 as a lowest road toll ever but as long as we have the human touch errors and distraction/fatigue will always play a part unfortunately, however we can do the righty and take breaks, don't drink and drive or drug and drive and wind that dial back as we want you to arrive alive.

Also still be aware and mindful that Cue Police have the capability to conduct drug wipes on drivers, along with the normal "Go as you blow" breath testing, so do the right thing please folks.

Crime

As members of the Cuemmmunity we are pleased to advise that the month of December turned out to be a good month for crime statistics and rightly so as 'tis the season to be jolly' and as it has turned out we didn't fare too badly in the "jolly" stakes so well done to everybody for doing the right thing and playing a part.

I appreciate that it is a long break, for the children, from school but please parents, try keep the young one's safe and free from trouble. I daresay by this time in the holiday season, the school term won't come along soon enough hey parents?

Community Policing

I just want to thank the Shire for the Christmas Party that was held for the Cuemmmunity and well done to Santa for making an appearance. I'm disappointed that Santa has a weight tolerance in place because I wanted to sit on his knee but unfortunately I was classed in the "fat kid bracket" and wasn't allowed!

POLICE BEAT

Also I'd like to thank the CRC for the invite to their Christmas party and twas a good night.

Now Christmas is over for another short year and we are into the New Year of 2020, isn't it funny, that a lot of the old movies had 2020 down as the future and that we would all be driving around in space ships and the like.

How great would flying or hovering from Cue to Perth in hyper-speed and not even receive a ticket from the local cops cos they're busy doing exactly the same!

How different would being stopped for a Random Breath Test be then? Beam me up Scotty.

But alas back to reality 2020 is just 2020, another year down the track, another year older for us all to be!

From a personal point of view, I do believe we are closer to the autonomous vehicles becoming a reality, which after getting used to "not being in charge" and a computer driving us from here to there, I think it wouldn't be a bad thing in my mind.

It would remove the human driver errors for a start and thus reduce if not eliminate the road death/accident toll/speeding tickets etc. Now that is a realistic and worthwhile not too distant future methinks!

Anyhoo, I hope that you are all sticking to your resolutions and they haven't crashed and burned already?

From all of us here at Cue Police, we wish you all the best for the New Year, take care and let's look after each other.

Quote of the month

"I was going to quit all my bad habits for the New Year, but then I remembered that no one likes a quitter!"

Australia Day – In a Season of Bloomin Bushfires

I started to write of BBQs and blowflies, and then I realised two things –

- * I'm repeating myself from last year's article
- * Given what's happening over east, maybe not a great topic of choice

This year comes with a sombre note. Over 2500 buildings have been lost over east, 21 souls left this earthly plane and half a billion (yes, that number is correct) animals are estimated dead in some of the most devastating bushfires we have ever seen. With a cyclone forming off the coast in the west, we are also starting to batten hatches for wild weather to come here in the West.

Within this devastation however, we also see our true selves - that spirit of mateship that is a part of our very fabric as Australians – and it is shining stronger than ever. Our West Australian vollies have gone east to help. We have dug deep and raised millions of dollars through GoFundMe pages to supports those who have lost everything in this bushfire season. And we are not alone. Our fire fighting mates from across the pond also see our plight, and have come from Canada and America to help support our volunteer fire fighters – a response learned from us when we went to their aid earlier last year. We don't forget who our mates are.

So while floating in the pool this year, drinking a beer, eating a snagger in bread with sauce, our thoughts will be with those people across the bight, who we may not know personally, but to whom our hearts go out and who we feel for in their time of need.

WHAT'S HAPPENING IN THE CUE-MOON-ITY

Thank You

On behalf of Cue Nursing Post we would like to say "Thank You" to the Vulcan Riders Association, for their generous donation to the Cue Nursing Post.

The kids now have toys, books and board games to play with and entertain themselves with while waiting at the Nursing Post.

The group were contacted by one of our locals that has been a good friend with one of the main associates of the group. Rob Fitzpatrick heard the Nursing Post was in need and didn't hesitate to help.

The Vulcan Riders Association has been donating to those in need for many years now. While speaking with Rob, he mentioned living in isolated towns such as Cue and Mt Magnet not so long ago, so he understands the struggle of not being as fortunate as people who are living closer to the coast. "We need to help and support each other as much as we can" he said.

Rob also mentioned that the Vulcan Riders and himself will be doing a charity drive and donating to those affected by fires in New South Wales.

If you see them on their way, make sure to give them a big wave!

CUE JOURNAL

Discover local history from over 100 years ago!

Cue, Western Australia. 1895

THESE ARE THE DAYS, THAT YOU'LL REMEMBER

Cue was discovered in the 1800's, and in those early years the population of Cue was in excess of 10,000 people.

From the late 1800's to the early 1900's the foundation and construction began for shops, accommodation and the hospital. Most of those buildings are now heritage listed and majority of the structures remain today.

The Shire of Cue building was one of the first to be built and then restored in 1980's, The Government Building was built between 1895 - 1897 (which is also known as the largest building in Cue).

The old Hospital was constructed in 1892 and was upgraded with local stone in 1895. In 1896 the Municipal Chambers opened and become accessible for the first General Meeting.

A year later, in 1897 the first train arrived in Cue, making history and creating the famous "Railway Demonstration" on April 20th 1897.

DO IT, I DARE YOU!

In just 39 days two young girls, Jean Simmons and Anne McNally, both 19 years old, covered over 1000km by foot.

They were dared to walk from Perth to Cue and quickly accepted the challenge.

Leaving Perth on March 25th 1938 and arriving in Cue on April 14th 1938. The two young women spent a total of 15 pounds between them.

Along the way they were accompanied by Hazel Erlandsen, who figured with another companion the walk would be rewarding and easier.

After learning about the fast times that Jean and Anne shared, Hazel decided to part ways with them. Before leaving she wrote a farewell note on their helmets reading, "Good Luck. Well done!"

Pastoral specialist joins team

THE Rural Financial Counselling Service of WA (RFCSWA) has welcomed on board a pastoral specialist as part of its rural financial counselling team.

WA's pastoral industry is a unique sector and it has faced challenging conditions in recent seasons. For that reason, this new Rural Financial Counsellor will focus solely on the pastoral industry — but he's actually not that new.

John Dymond had only recently retired from the RFCSWA but jumped at the chance to return when he was offered the opportunity to work with pastoralists and their communities.

He rejoined the RFCSWA team in June and has spent the past couple of months on the road, meeting people across the southern rangelands.

John's keen interest in the industry can be traced back to his first stint of on-farm work experience in the 1970s at a station just outside of Sandstone.

"I came from a grazing property in New Zealand, so it was a big eye opener — just to see the scale and understand how a grazing property like that operated," he said.

John spent more than 30 years teaching farm management at Muresk, including the arid land management course.

"It was a great unit, but it was also a really good excuse to take students on a tour through the rangelands and I got just as much out of it as they did," he said.

John has urged pastoralists and small businesses to get in touch with the RFCSWA if they

CLIENT STORY

Poor seasons and rising debt are situations that many Rural Financial Counselling Service of WA clients are familiar with and have worked with a Rural Financial Counsellor to successfully navigate.

South East farmers Jim and Jenny were hit by five years of drought, followed by two below-average seasons.

The poor seasons saw their business chew through its cash reserves, resulting in pressure from the bank to reduce debt.

Their Rural Financial Counsellor was able to negotiate with their bank and explain the need for ongoing finance to run the business until a more permanent debt resolution could be organised.

"Just knowing that you can pick up the phone and there is somebody there that you feel comfortable with and you can talk to, that's one of the biggest helps," the couple said. "We can see our way clear now, to doing what we want to do with our future."

You can watch Jim and Jenny's story at: <https://www.facebook.com/rfcswa/videos/2104208809828382/> have been feeling the financial pinch of poor seasons.

"I'm happy to come and visit anyone who would like to discuss their position," he said. "Rural Financial Counsellors can help to define your financial position and work with you to find options to deal with challenges."

The RFCSWA, which is funded by the State and Federal governments, is a not-for-profit organisation that provides free and confidential financial counselling to primary producers and regional small businesses.

To contact the RFCSWA, please freecall 1800 612 004 or visit www.rfcswa.com.au.

The Rural Financial Counselling Service of WA helps pastoralists, farmers and related small businesses. The service is free, confidential and independent.

HOW CAN THE RFCSWA HELP?

- » Review the financial position and structure of the business.
- » Identify solutions and plot a course forward.
- » Explore options to strengthen the business.
- » Negotiate with banks or other lenders and review loans.

Improving water quality in the Murchison

Water Corporation is building four water treatment plants in Mount Magnet, Cue, Sandstone and Meekatharra to improve water quality in the Murchison region.

The water treatment plants will use a desalination process called electro-dialysis reversal (EDR). EDR technology has been successfully used in regional towns across Australia to improve water quality conditions, reduce nitrate levels and convert over 90% of the treated water into drinking water. It is currently used at the Wiluna and Yalgoo water treatment plants in the Murchison region.

December 2019 update

We are working with our authorised contractor, Guidera O'Connor to complete the design of the four treatment plants and will begin construction on the first plant site in late 2019.

Recent milestones

- Contractors will start work at the Mount Magnet site in December 2019.
- Heritage surveys in Cue are still in progress and expected to be complete in December 2019. Once we have these results, we will complete our final approvals. A new 600 kilolitre water storage tank has also been added to the project scope to provide extra storage in town.
- In early 2020, we expect to complete final approvals and consultation with land owners in Sandstone and Meekatharra.
- Another project update will be provided in February 2020.

Construction schedule

We will build each water treatment plant in stages and expect all plants to be operational by mid 2021. This schedule has been determined by each town's specific plant requirements and available power supply.

1. Mount Magnet plant construction to begin in December 2019
2. Cue plant construction to begin in early 2020
3. Sandstone plant construction to begin across two sites in mid 2020
4. Meekatharra plant construction to begin in late 2020

How we will power the water treatment plants

Existing Water Corporation assets on the water treatment plant sites will continue to operate using grid power.

As part of our commitment to improved sustainability, solar power and batteries will be installed at the Mount Magnet, Cue and Meekatharra sites. This will minimise the amount of additional grid power required to run the new water treatment plants, including the EDR technology.

A diesel generator will be installed at all sites for additional power support.

Sandstone will also receive two new 200kL water storage tanks and a booster pump station to improve their water storage. As this site is the smallest, solar power and batteries will not be required to power the Sandstone plant, which will use grid power and a diesel generator when required.

Cue Christmas Party 2019

Stephanie Wandek

I would like to express a very big thank you to Davyd and Angela Hooper, proprietors of the Cue Roadhouse for their very generous donation of toys and sweets for the Shire Christmas Party on 14th December.

Their kindness together with the efforts of Shawn and the staff at the Cue Roadhouse made the event that much more special for the children attending this annual event.

The look on the faces of those kids receiving presents from Santa was one of sheer delight and gave proof to the fact that giving at Christmas time is a real joy in itself.

Once again a very warm thankyou to Davyd, Angela, Shawn and all the staff at the Cue Roadhouse for your wonderful generosity.

Merry Christmas

HON ROBIN SCOTT MLC
OF KALGOORLIE-BOULDER
Member for Mining and Pastoral

At the age of sixteen Robin Scott came from Scotland with his parents to Western Australia, where he enrolled as an apprentice electrician. Immensely proud of his trade, Robin has worked for more than 30 years as an electrical contractor to the WA mining industry, especially the Goldfields. Flying himself and his staff to electrical contracting assignments, Robin logged 4,000 hours in his Rockwell Commander, the aircraft he now uses to service his constituents in the vast Mining and Pastoral Region.

Robin is an enthusiastic campaigner for job opportunities through creating more apprenticeships for young men and young women. The Federal Government has partially embraced the Pauline Hanson's One Nation Policy of subsidising apprentice wages 75% in the first year, 50% in the second and 25% in the third year.

Robin Scott moved the Disallowance Motion which defeated the Government's attempt to increase the Gold Royalty by 50%. Robin is determined to protect and promote mining and led the defence against water charges for prospectors and small miners.

Robin's priorities for 2019 include:

- Water pipeline south from the Kimberley
- Supply good clean water for all regional people
- Reopen the Department of Mines Industry Regulation Safety Office in Norseman
- Sealing the Wiluna-Meekatharra Road
- Insist on rapid delivery of the promised MRI machine for Kalgoorlie
- Big upgrade for palliative care in the regions
- Aged care facility for Leonora
- New hospital for Laverton
- New hospital for Meekatharra
- Ensure the Nursing posts are manned by more than one nurse and are secure and safe for staff
- Abolish fringe benefit tax to encourage FIFO workers to live locally
- Speed up dog fencing and increase the number of professional doggers
- More jobs through quicker approvals for mines

FAST MEX SHAKING BEEF

INGREDIENTS

2 garlic cloves crushed	60ml extra virgin olive oil	1 small bunch coriander
1/2 teaspoon caster sugar	2 corncobs	4 brine pickled jalapenos
2 tablespoons tequila	300g red cabbage	Chipotle chilli sauce
2 tablespoons lime	4 radishes	soft torillas
500g scotch fillet	1 small red onion	lime wedges

METHOD

STEP 1.

Combine garlic, sugar, half tequila and lime juice in a glass or ceramic bowl. Stir until the sugar dissolves. Cube the beef in 2cm cubes then add into sugar mix and toss to combine. Cover and set aside for 10 minutes to marinate.

STEP 2.

Meanwhile, heat 1 tablespoon oil in a large frypan over medium high heat. Add corn and cook, turning, for 4 to 5 minutes or until slightly charred. Transfer to a board and use a long sharp knife to remove the kernels in large pieces.

STEP 3.

Shred the cabbage finely, slice radish and cut onion into wedges, then combine into a large bowl. Add 1 tbs oil and remaining lime juice, season and toss to combine.

STEP 4.

Heat remaining oil in a large frypan over high heat until smoking. Add the beef mix in a single layer. Cook for 2 minutes, without stirring or turning.

STEP 5.

Shan pan to toss beef. Cook for further 2 minutes, add remaining tequila. Cook for a few seconds. Divide beef, cabbage mixture, corn, jalapenos & coriander onto serving plates. Drizzle with sauce and serve with warmed torillas & lime wedges.

CLASSIC CUSTARD TARTS

INGREDIENTS

1 1/2 cups plain flour
1/3 cup icing sugar
125g butter, chilled & chopped
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 egg yolk

FILLING

3 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
1/3 cup castor sugar
2 3/4 cups milk, warmed
pinch of nutmeg

METHOD

STEP 1.

Grease six 3.5cm deep, 7.5cm round pie tins. Process flour, icing sugar and butter until mixture resembles fine bread crumbs. Add vanilla and egg yolk. Process until dough just comes together. Shape into a disc. Cover with plastic wrap. Refrigerate for 30 minutes.

STEP 2.

Preheat oven to 200 degrees or 180 in a fan forced oven. Place baking tray in oven. Divide dough into 6. Roll each between 2 sheets baking paper until 3mm thick. Line tins with pastry, cover with baking paper and fill with weights or uncooked rice. Place on hot baking tray and bake for 10 minutes. Remove weights and paper, then bake for 5 minutes or until pastry turns golden. Cool completely.

STEP 3.

Make filling: reduce oven to 160 degrees or 140 for fan forced. Whisk eggs, vanilla, sugar and milk together. Pour into pastry. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Bake for 35 minutes or until just set. Cool completely and serve.
