Hello good people of Cue

Well it's official, by the calendar at least, Winter is here again. I feel I may have spoken a little early last month as the few cool days we had at the end of April dissipated back into warmth again. Funny seasons. I believe we had a tad over 3mm of rain during May which was 3mm more than May last year and now we have received a nice bit of soaking rain which has already broken last year's June rainfall record. Here's hoping it continues so we may get some flowers this year.

It was a little disappointing to hear, (although by no means surprising), that we had a complaint about the Dryblower's photo content not being of Cue. When the complainant was asked to contribute suitable pictures for publication that would satisfy their personal criteria, the response was "they didn't have time". What a joke. On numerous occasions we have expressed our desire to have people contribute material, including photographs, to be included in the Dryblower's content, however, there doesn't appear to have been very much material forthcoming, except for a couple of regulars, for which we are most appreciative. If photographic material is sparse I can only access my personal library, and if I happen to have the chance to get outside of Cue and take a couple of pic's I will share them with you all. If this upsets some people I will not be making any apologies. As the old saying goes "put up or shut up". Whilst on the subject of the Dryblower it appears that last month someone took it upon themselves to take control of the distribution of our wonderful little publication. The reason the Dryblower has not been available from the roadhouse for 12 months or more is because in or around November 2016 the owner of the roadhouse decided to throw all their copies in the rubbish bin. It would be nice to receive some formal assurance that this action was regrettable and would not be repeated in the future. We do accept the recent request from the current manager for them to receive some copies for distribution. I hope those that interfered have the same concerns for the pastoralists, in making sure that they receive a copy.

It is a crying shame that our little village has lost another piece of its history with the demolition and destruction of the old power house. Surely this building could have been dismantled and re-erected as part of the plans for a museum. Some of our older residents remember dearly the comfort they received when able to hear the eminent sound produced at on time. Fantastic to see visitors using the new bowling green on the weekend. A great asset to town I think. Enjoy June.

FROM THE DESK OF THE CEO

A warm welcome to all our visitors, it is great to see the town alive and busy with a number of projects on the go.

Firstly on a sad note, there have been some unfortunate incidences where local residents have lost their dogs to baits recently. While the Shire of Cue is not involved in baiting programs it serves as a reminder that baiting is taking place in the district, so please be vigilant with your pets and take precautions to avoid our domesticated friends from exposure to something that is aimed at our feral problem.

Resurfacing works through the main street of town have been delayed but are now expected to start in mid to late June, depending on the weather. Works are expected to take several weeks to complete with traffic restricted to one lane and traffic control in place.

Sealing works on the Berigarra Cue Road are expected to be undertaken before the end of the financial year but again this depends on how much rain we receive over the coming week.

During periods of wet weather, it is highly likely that the Shire's roads will be closed to all but essential traffic. This action is taken to minimise potential damage to the road surface in order to keep the road as safe as possible. For information on road conditions please contact the Shire or check the notices on the office window or our website.

Cast and crew for The Dust Walker movie are currently in town and busy with production as well as embracing what our town and lifestyle has to offer. It is great to see the way they have transformed some of our disused buildings into screen sets. A number of locals have already been cast as extras and there are still opportunities for more extras, including some cameo roles. If you would like to get involved please introduce yourself to Megan at the Shire Hall, or let us know at the office and we can pass on your details.

The Decadent and Depraved, recently filmed at locations in WA including Cue, Sandstone and Yalgoo, and featuring a few locals as extras, will be screened at the Shire Hall on Tuesday 3 July. This will be a red carpet event, with lead actors attending and a Western-themed dress-up competition on the night. So dust off your hat, put your boots on and join us for a night of locally filmed movies, a bite to eat and prizes for best dressed.

The next meeting of Council will be held in the Shire of Cue Council Chamber on Tuesday 19 June 2018, commencing at 6.30pm. If you have any queries regarding these or any other Shire related matters, please don't hesitate to give me a call on 9963 8600 or drop into the Shire office.

Former Resident Turn's 100!

Born on the 14th May 1918 Glad Keeffe (nee Olsen) celebrated her 100th birthday, surrounded by family and friends in the David Buttfield Aged Care Centre in Gwelup where she resides.

Glad's grandparents owned the Murchison Club Hotel in Cue and her mother travelled to Cue to give birth to Glad. She was born in the family cottage to the rear of the hotel, which until recently was used as the staff accommodation. Glad was educated at Mullewa State School, and has fond memories of school. She did win a Scholarship for further education but her parents could not afford the ongoing costs. She then went to the Convent in Mullewa to learn Book-keeping and worked at the Drapery store, Molsters. As well as working in the store she also did the book-keeping. Glad enjoyed window dressing of the store and during certain social events, fashion played a big part, and she got a lot of pleasure out of doing the window displays. Glad worked here from when she was fifteen for about a year, but the shop became bankrupt.

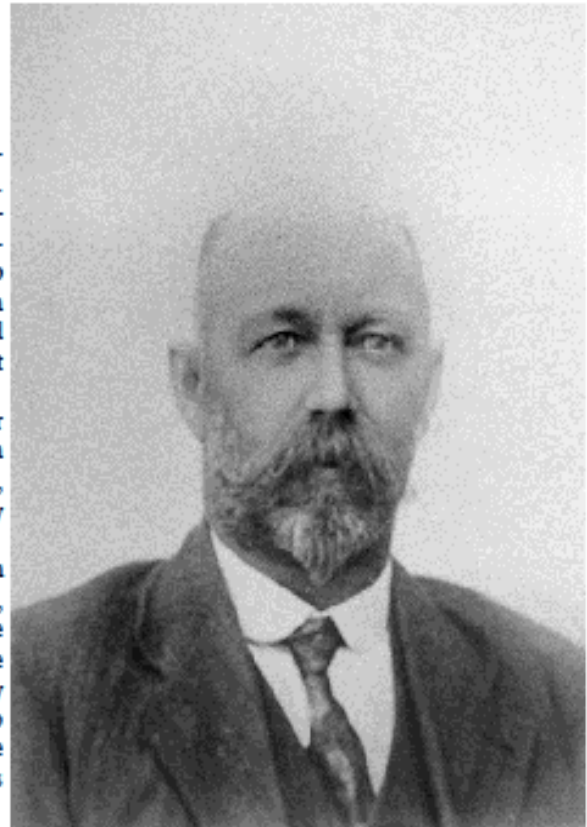

Fortunately her Grandfather, Joe Bowes offered her a job in the office of the Murchison Club Hotel in Cue. She did everything that was required, including polishing the silver for the dining

She said the silverware, including cutlery, sugar bowls, salt and pepper shakers and bread bowls had to be shining as to see your face in it. White starched tablecloths and serviettes were part of the establishment as well, and Glad enjoyed folding the serviettes into certain designs, mainly Kings Crowns. She would go and pick wild tobacco plant leaves to put in the fruit bowls to be placed on the table. Again her forte in display and design came to the fore and she always said the Dining Room looked so beautiful, in a mining town where dust was difficult to keep out.

Glad previously had very good memories of U.S. President Hoover coming to Cue. She remembers when the train got in at midnight in Cue. The travellers would go to the rooms, the keys left in the doors, leaving early the next morning and putting the money in a honesty box.

She enjoyed a social life in Cue going to dances, pictures, etc. When the football teams from Meekatharra and Mt. Magnet came to town, they would eat in the dining room and she would have to collect the money at the door. When the Pastoralists came to town for either the races or meetings, they would use the hotel and that was a very busy time. She enjoyed her time in Cue, would sometimes play the piano quietly in the hotel and her Grandfather would ask her to play one particular piece. When she turned 21 he gave her the piano, and it is still in the family now.

Her eye for detail and perfection was well known, with her ability in dressmaking and cake decorating. Glad was self-taught and came about after she was married, especially the cake decorating. It was hard to figure out how many dresses, mainly ball and wedding gowns she made, but many of her nieces relay fond stories of her sitting at her treadle sewing machine, peddling away. Some ladies have told me when it came to social events like the Mullewa Show, they would all want to see what she would wear, as she was always dressed so elegantly. She would also have made new dresses for her daughters. She had a passion for sewing and never required a pattern and many gowns were very elaborate. The only time she charged was to alter a gentleman's suit, and she later regretted charging, but was a very difficult job. She did a smocked child's dress, which she sold to Mrs Molster, who then sold it in the store.

JOSEPH BOWES ESQ. 1918.
Owner of the Murchison Club Hotel, Cue.

With her cake decorating, she designed many styles, keeping up with the fashion, mainly what she would see in magazines. Once again how many she decorated is unaccountable, be it 21st, wedding, Christening, Anniversary and many others cakes. I don't think she could even put a sponge cake on the table, without making it look just too good to eat.

Her ability didn't stop there, extending her crafts to knitting, crochet, tapestry, patchwork, embroidery, etc. When she came to Perth, she entered a tapestry in the Royal Show and received a highly recommended prize. She knitted baby clothes voluntarily for premature babies for King Edward Hospital. She also knitted Teddy Bears for an organization called Jacob and his coat of many colours. These Teddy Bears went to orphans overseas, and little did these children know they were receiving a work of art, as she dressed them in knitted clothes as well, even knitting ear rings and necklaces, and were just delightful. She was still making gowns in her 80's as well as decorating cakes.

She was also a very good cook, known for her scones, and always tried different recipes from other countries. During school holidays, her daughter Rhonda would bring home two Malaysian girls for holidays, they became part of the family and I think this influenced her, as she made some of the food they were accustomed to.

Glad married a local farmer Tom Keeffe, they had four children, Ray, Phil, Lynette and Rhonda. She adapted to farm life, stating that Tom was a better cook than she, as she had only made bread up until the time she married. But she adapted to farm life and her dedication to Tom. Tom being a very good sportsman, playing football and cricket was the main occupation of a weekend and she supported him in every possible way. Also on the farm, with her ability to drive in this period, was very beneficial. She was a keen gardener, but it was very difficult, living on a hill with rocky soil and salty water. Once she got Tom to dynamite a section of her garden, so as to have roses, but the water was always a problem, thus the roses didn't survive.

They later came to Perth to live, she never forgot Mullewa or Cue, cherishing her times there and the lifestyle that she considered herself fortunate to have.

Glad was very independent, caring for Tom, later with Alzheimer's, for a long period, until such time, where he went into an aged care home. She drove until she was 85.

Unfortunately the memory is no longer there, but she gave us the chance of hearing so often her life, which we are thankful for.

Glad quoted "that life goes on, be it good or bad, but family is my life so I think of myself as being fortunate"

We as a family are the fortunate ones, to have her in our life. We wish Mum a very Happy Birthday on her 100th Year.

Lyn Freeman (Daughter of Glad) .

Both the Shire of Cue and The Murchison Club Hotel sent Glad bunches of flowers to wish her a very happy 100th birthday.

BIGGEST MORNING TEA

Held in Cue on the 24th May 2018

We held the Biggest Morning Tea, and it was a great morning, lots of cakes donated and lots of people coming in and out. We managed to raise $570.20 for Cancer research. Well done everyone. It's a fantastic effort from such a small community and we managed to outdo last years total. We had a door prize, won by Lyn Johnson, Raffle 1st prize won by Mal & Maria Taylor, 2nd prize won by Mal and Maria Taylor and the lucky Number was won by Gary Tegg . Congratulations to the winners, and a big thank you to all those helpers from the Cue Seniors and the lovely people who helped from the Caravan Park. You

Local artists selected for new cancer hostel

Five local artists have been selected to provide artwork at the new Midwest Cancer Hostel. The artwork comprises paintings and photographic canvases which will adorn the walls of the hostel as well as screening to separate the onsite car park and communal garden areas.

The $1.38 million Midwest Cancer Hostel is on track for completion next month and will include seven double rooms providing accommodation for cancer patients and their carers from outlying remote communities, to enable access to cancer treatment and/or specialist cancer services closer to home.

The hostel is being constructed by the WA Country Health Service as part of funding totalling $5.48 million provided by the Australian Government's Health and Hospitals Fund (HHF) which included $4.1 million for the Midwest Cancer Centre that opened in November 2016.

Quandongs were once prolific in the Geraldton area including behind the Geraldton Health Campus. Quandongs were used as both a food source and medicinal aid for local Yamatji people in times past. The ripe, red quandong fruits would be eaten raw or dried for later use. Some local families still gather quandongs for jam making.

The artists selected are: Janeen Home, Rachel Weaver, Rose Holdaway, Andrew Binsiar and Graeme Gibbons.

A Cooks Lesson

Later one afternoon I wandered over to the yards,
Went to see the boys working rather hard.
Then something caught my eye and I thought I'd go and see,
What I found was a cow staring straight at me,
Oh what a beauty with eyes so big and brown,
With big floppy ears that could nearly touch the ground,
This beast had me mesmerised so I edged a wee bit closer,
Then I heard a voice say, "look out he's gonna go ya"
You see that nice brown cow wasn't a cow, it actually was a bull.
So I started walking to the rail acting calm and cool.
Off he came with a snort, bugger looking cool,
I was up and over as quick as Martha, to loud applause and thunderous laughter.
Now when I go over to the yards I stand outside and smile,
Because this cook has already learnt
how to climb the rail...
